

Biographical Notes and Contact of Authors

Dr. sci. Ivo KOMŠIĆ is a full-time professor at the University of Sarajevo and politician who served as the 37th mayor of Sarajevo from 2013 to 2017. He was a key figure in the talks that led to the end of the Bosnian War with the Dayton Agreement, and the formation of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. He is the author of several books and chapters in research volumes in the fields of sociology, philosophy, history, and communication. He is sought-after as panelists and media guest to discuss topics in the mentioned fields.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy

Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: ivo.komsic@ff.unsa.ba

Dr. sci. Nijaz IBRULJ is a full-time professor at the University of Sarajevo (BA, MA, PhD, University of Sarajevo; Post Doc Study at Berkeley, University of California, Dept. of Philosophy). He is also President of Academia Analitica – society for development of logic and analytic philosophy in Bosnia and Hercegovina. He specializes in philosophical logic, mathematical logic, philosophy of language, cognitive sciences, analytic philosophy, methodology of sciences and social ontology. He has held courses in Logic, Analytic Philosophy, Theory of Knowledge, Introduction to Cognitive Sciences, Philosophy of Language, Methodology of Social Sciences. Published books: Philosophy of Logic (1999), The Century of Rearrangements (2005). Commentaries. Recensions. Critics. (2020). He translated from Ancient Greek Porphyry's book Isagoge.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy

Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: nijaz.ibrulj@ff.unsa.ba

Dr. sci. Tomislav TADIĆ is Associate Professor at the University of Sarajevo. He obtained his PhD degree in Sociology at the Faculty of Philosophy in Sarajevo, Sociology Department, in 2019. His research interests are topics in the field of sociology of religion, anthropology of religion and contemporary sociology of culture with emphasis on hermeneutical approach. He is a member of ZINK (scientific research incubator) and editorial board of the journals: SOPHOS and Humanities and Social Sciences. Tadić graduated Philosophy and Sociology at the Faculty of Philosophy in Sarajevo in 2012. He obtained his master's degree in Sociology at the Faculty of Philosophy in Sarajevo, Sociology Department, in 2014. For the achievements during his studies (I – II cycle), he was awarded the “Golden Badge of the University of Sarajevo” in 2014. Tadić was a keynote speaker on several regional and international conference.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy
 Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H
Email: tomislav.tadic@ff.unsa.ba

Dr. sci. Jelena GAKOVIĆ is Associate Professor at the Department of Sociology, Faculty of Philosophy – University of Sarajevo where she teaches academic courses in the area of systematic and applied sociology. She earned her master degree at the University of Sarajevo and La Sapienza Rome, and completed her doctoral studies Contemporary sociology and globalization processes at the University of Sarajevo. Her research interests are in the field of applied and critical sociology, cultural studies, sociology of politics, urban studies and economic sociology. She is a member of ZINK, Academia Analytica Society and editorial board of journal Sophos.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy
 Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H
Email: jelena.gakovic@ff.unsa.ba

Dr. sci. Nezir KRČALO, full professor, department of social and human sciences, Faculty of Administration: Ethics in administration, integrity in administration, Methodology of social sciences, Methodology of research in administration Faculty of Pedagogy: Philosophy of education Published books: Adnan Džafić, Nezir Krčalo (2017): “Identity crisis in modern societies – return to “certainty” Nezir Krčalo, Adnan

Džafić (2018): “Fragments of science and Sufism”, Adnan Džafić, Nezir Krčalo, Edin Ramić, (2019) The Call of Postmodern Sirens.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Administration
Igmanska 40A, 71320 Vogošća, B&H

Email: nezir.krcalo@fu.unsa.ba

Dr. sci. Adnan DŽAFIĆ, associate professor, department of sociological sciences. Introduction to Contemporary Sociology – Sociology 2, Sociology of Bosnian and Herzegovinian Society, Sociology of Education. Published books and proceedings:., Haris Zulum, Adnan Džafić (2023) Islamic Culture of the Fojnica Region, Adnan Džafić, Sarina Bakić, Asim Mujkić (2021) Understanding Society, Adnan Džafić, Jusuf Žiga, Šaćir Filandra (2023) Bosnian and Herzegovina Society and Contemporary Time, Adnan Džafić, Nezir Krčalo (2017): “Identity crisis in modern societies – a return to “certainties” Nezir Krčalo, Adnan Džafić (2018): “Fragments of science and Sufism”, Adnan Džafić, Nezir Krčalo, Edin Ramić, (2019) The Call of Postmodern Sirens.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Political Science
Skenderija 72, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: adnan.dzafic@fpn.unsa.ba

Dr. sc. Muamer DŽANANOVIĆ, senior researcher and head of the Institute for Researching of War Crimes and Crimes against Humanity – University of Sarajevo. He is expert in the field of sociology of genocide and sociology war crimes.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Institute for Research of Crimes Against Humanity and International Law
Aleja Bosne srebrenе bb, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: muamer.dzananovic@institut-genocid.unsa.ba

Dr. sci. Dijana SULEJMANOVIĆ was born in 1987 in Banja Luka. She completed her primary and secondary education in Sanski Most and earned her bachelor’s and master’s degrees in psychology at the Department of Psychology, Faculty of Philosophy, University of Banja Luka.

In 2020, she defended her doctoral dissertation titled “Personal and Attitudinal Determinants of Changing Ethnic Stereotypes in the Situation of Informational Social Influence” at the Department of Psychology, Faculty of Philosophy, University of Belgrade. She has completed advanced training in cognitive-behavioral therapy and attended seminars on ACT and DBT psychotherapy.

Contact: University of Bihać

Pape Ivana Pavla II 2, 77000 Bihać, B&H

Email: dijana.sulejmanovic@ipf.unbi.ba

Dr. sci. Amira SADIKOVIĆ is a associate professor at Faculty of Philosophy – University of Sarajevo, Department of English Language and Literature (particulary English language and literature: English language; linguistics; contemporary English; translation). Her research interests are: translation (literary and technical); translation and culture; translation and linguistics; interpreting (consecutive and simultaneous); translator training.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy

Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: amira.sadikovic@ff.unsa.ba

Dr. sci Selma ĐULIMAN is a associate professor at Faculty of Philosophy – University of Sarajevo, Department of English Language and Literature – Head of Department (particulary English language and literature: English language; contemporary English; translation). Her Research interests are: semantics; pragmatics; theory and practice of translation.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy

Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: selma.djuliman@ff.unsa.ba

Tatjana ŽARKOVIĆ, PhD was born in Sarajevo, where she lives and works. She completed studies of philosophy and sociology at the University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy; master’s studies at the University of Vienna; and PhD at the University of Sarajevo. She is engaged in scientific research work since 2013 when she started working as a teaching and research assistant at the Department of Sociology at the University of Vienna, with the mentorship of Professor Christoph Reinprecht. In her research work, she focuses primarily on migration, urban studies, marginalized groups. In 2018 starts working at the University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy, Department of Sociology. In addition to numerous published academic articles in national and international scientific journals, she researches, writes and publishes manuals, studies, research reports, and in doing so achieves cooperation with different organizations.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy
 Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H
Email: tatjana.zarkovic@ff.unsa.ba

Omar MAHMUTOVIĆ, MA was born in 1997 in Bihać, Bosnia and Herzegovina. After completing his primary and secondary education in Bihać, he enrolled and successfully completed his bachelors studies at the Faculty of Philosophy in Sarajevo in 2019. After his bachelors studies, he enrolled in masters studies also at the Faculty of Philosophy in Sarajevo and successfully completed his studies in 2022. After his masters studies, he began working as a Teaching Assistant in the Department of Philosophy on courses including Logic with Methodology of Sociological Research, Analytic Philosophy, Theory of Knowledge, Philosophy of Mind, etc. His research focus lies in analytical pragmatism, epistemological themes, and formal classical and non-classical logics.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy
 Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H
Email: omar.mahmutovic@ff.unsa.ba

Adnan HATIBOVIĆ, MA is a teaching and research assistant at Faculty of Philosophy (Department of Sociology), University of Sarajevo. He earned his bachelor's degree in sociology in 2018 and completed his master's degree in 2020 defending a MA thesis on "David Harvey –

Neo-Imperialism in the Age of Liberal Capitalism”. During his studies, he particularly developed affinities for the subjects of history of social and political doctrines, theoretical sociology, political sociology and economic sociology. For the achievements during his studies, he was awarded the “Silver Badge of the University of Sarajevo” in 2020.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy

Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: adnan.hatibovic@ff.unsa.ba

Jelena BAVRKA, MA is a teaching associate at Faculty of Philosophy – University of Sarajevo, Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures (particulary Slavic languages and literatures; Russian language and literature: Russian literature; cultural studies). Her research interests are: history of Russian literature; contemporary Russian literature; translation studies; cultural studies.

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy

Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: jelena.bavrka@ff.unsa.ba

Kelima ĆATOVIĆ, mr. ph. Student at Faculty of Philosophy – University of Sarajevo (Department of Sociology).

Contact: University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy

Franje Račkog 1, 71000 Sarajevo, B&H

Email: kelima.kendinefes@gmail.com